

REVOLUTIONISTS WON

ALEXIS OF HAYTI IS GIVEN LIVELY FAREWELL TRIP

Former President Took Refuge on a French Ship and Tried to Take Treasury Contents With Him--New President Has Taken Seat--Revolutionists Take City of Port Au Prince.

(By Associated Press.)

PORT AU PRINCE, Dec. 2.—President Nord Alexis has been deposed and is now safe aboard the French training ship Duguay Trouin and Port Au Prince is in the hands of the revolutionists. General Antoine Simon, the leader of the insurgents, is marching up the peninsula with an army of 5000, and as new president, General Legitime has been proclaimed.

At the last moment President Alexis yielded to the urging of those about him and decided to take refuge aboard the French warship. At precisely 5 o'clock a salute of twenty-one guns announced his departure from the palace. Shouts greeted him as he stepped from the precincts of the palace into his carriage, M. Carteron holding the folds of the French flag over the shoulders of the deposed president to protect him. An immense crowd of men and women assembled at the wharf and the arrival of the presidential carriage, escorted by a battalion of infantry and a squadron of cavalry under command of General Hippolyte, was the signal for tumult and riot.

All along the route people lined the streets and shouted and jeered and cursed the fallen president, but when the landing stage was reached the mob lost all restraint. The scene was tragic and shameful. Infuriated women broke through the cordon of troops and shrieked coarsest insults in the very face of the ex-president, who strove bravely to appear undismayed. They tried to hurl themselves upon Alexis and fought with hands and feet against the soldiers, who found difficulty in forcing them back. In order to disengage him the troops discharged their guns.

During this time the space was cleared, and President Alexis, with the French colors still draped about him, was hurried aboard a skiff in tow of a steam launch, his suite tumbling into the skiff after him. As the launch drew away three Haytien gunboats and the French and American warships in the harbor fired a salute to the fallen president. Just as Alexis was embarking a woman succeeded in reaching his side, and drawing a murderous knife made a sweep at him. The blow fell short, however, and before she could follow it up with another she was seized by a soldier. A man succeeded in striking the president with his fist, but the blow was a glancing one on the neck. A trunk which was left behind on the hurried departure of the president of the president and party from the wharf was seized by the rioters and broken open. It was found to contain some $10,000 in gold and $20,000 in Haytien gourdes. The specie was scattered about and promptly appropriated.

JUDGE LANGAN ENDS HIS WORK IN GOLDFIELD

GOLDFIELD, Dec. 2.—Judge Langan left this morning for Carson and yesterday afternoon rendered his last service on the Goldfield bench, which he has occupied periodically for about nineteen months, Esmeralda being part of his five-county district. Upon reaching the capital city Judge Langan will confer with Acting Governor Dickerson and then tender his resignation as judge of his present district.

Forthwith P. J. Somers, who will accompany Judge Langan to Carson, will be named by Acting Governor Dickerson as one of the two judges for Esmeralda county, as provided by the bill, which will be rendered effective upon the acceptance of the resignation of the present judge. Judge Langan will be named to preside in the district embracing Ormsby, Lyon, Storey and Douglas counties, which will be known as the fifth judicial district. Esmeralda county alone will constitute the seventh judicial district.

Judge Somers will return immediately to Goldfield and open court in the regular room at the courthouse. The second judge for the new district will probably conduct court in the room at present given over to the county commissioners. The latter officers, in case their room is used for court purposes, will hold sessions in the county clerk's office, as they have done until very recently.

As to who the second judge is to be is still somewhat problematical, but the choice seems to lay between Judge Theron Stevens and S. L. Carpenter, the latter of the law firm of Carpenter and Stanley.

(By Associated Press.)

PINE BLUFF (Ark.), Dec. 2.—A more hopeful feeling prevails in this city tonight, when river authorities predicted that the crest of the high wave would pass here by tomorrow night. The situation tonight is distinctly better. The north bank of the river caved rapidly today, giving relief to the south bank at Pine Bluff, the swift current not striking the endangered ground with such force as formerly. The students of the Arkansas Branch Normal college volunteered their services and are now at work to protect threatened property.

Was Result of Work of Incendiary

(By Associated Press.)

RED LODGE (Mont.), Dec. 2.—General Manager Claghorn of the Northwestern Improvement company, who has made a thorough investigation of the cause which led to the mine disaster November 20, has come to the conclusion that the fire in stope No. 2 was of incendiary origin, and today offered a reward of the guilty parties. The officials of the company allege they found evidence of oil on the timbers and from the odor they have reason to believe the crib was saturated with oil before having been ignited. This morning at a point near the crib in No. 2 stope, the headless body of one of the six men who were entombed was discovered. The remains were badly burned and decomposed and all efforts of identification were futile. No trace of the other five entombed miners has been found.
